REGULATIONS

Art. 1 The Certamen Varronianum is called every year in April or in May and it is for students attending the second last and the last year of national Licei Classici and no more than ten competitors coming from UE schools where they study Latin.

Art. 2 The Classical section examining board is formed by a University Professor of Latin Literature, who acts as President; by two teachers whose election by the President of the examining board is unchallengeable; by the school Headmaster and by the President of ex-students association, in agreement with the organizing Committee.

Art. 3 No more than two students for each joining school will gain entrance. They have to be accompanied by a teacher or by their Headmaster. The students will be hosted at our own expenses; the associate teachers will have full board at one of the local hotels and 50% of the expenses will be refunded by the organizing committee on production of relevant documentation. Travel costs are chargeable to associate teachers while grants are provided for students' travel costs (50% of relevant documentation if they used public transport). The competitors coming from UE schools the flight will be refunded.

Art. 3 bis Classical section winners will be awarded on their three-day stay as following:

- cash prize to students classified as first three
- books and study materials to students classified from fourth to tenth
- certificates to all participants: plates to all joining schools.

For the participants coming from UE schools whose works will be judged creditable, a separate list will be drawn up and the best three classified will be given cash prizes. Their amount is the same as those for Italian students.

Art. 4 At the same time of the classical certamen a technical-scientific one will take place reserved for students of the last two classes of classical, scientific, technical, educational, vocational schools for agriculture and national technological ones. This section is divided into two subsections: historical-literary and technical-practical. Each school can take part in the certamen with no more than two either individual or group works; even the students who were present in the previous contest and did not classify within the first ten can participate. At most twenty students (ten for each of the two subsections) coming from UE schools will be admitted.

The Technical and Science section examining board is formed by one University Professor and by one high school teacher, one specialized in scientific and technologic field, the other in vocational field. They will examine all the projects forwarded to us and will declare the winners. The deadline will be communicated at the right time.

Technical and Science section winners will be awarded as following:

- cash prize to students classified as first three
- plates, books and study materials to students classified from fourth to tenth
- certificates to all participants and to all joining schools.

UE students will be rewarded as fixed in article 3 bis.

Prize-giving for Technical and Science section winners will be held during the final day of “Certamen - Classical section” every year in April or May and the winners classified as first three of both sections will be hosted full board for two days at the organizing Committee own expenses. Grants are provided for student travel costs.

Art. 5 Cultural, entertaining, sightseeing activities will be organized for all participants.

Art. 6 The organizing Committee:
